FIERCE FIGHT IN BELLEVILLE. LIEUTENANT CORDUA'S DEATH.

Berry Used a Piece of Gaspipe and His Opponent a Knife-The Quarrel Originated in a Saloon.

Stabbed Nine Times.

In a fight at Belleville last night, Jefferson Berry, an iron molder, struck Gus Blouwitz, a coal miner, on the head with a piece of gas pipe, fracturing his skull, and Blouwitz stabbed him nine times. Both men are seriously hurt. It is said that Berry cannot possibly survive his injuries, and that Blouwitz may succumb to his Berry lives in Jefferson street, and Blouwitz lives in Freeburg avenue, Belleville-Blouwitz went to the Louisville and Nashville Depot early in the evening to pay a bill. On the way back he stopped at Brown's saloon.

He found Berry in the place, drunk and quarrelsome, and soon he started a dispute with Blouwitz. The molder tried to pacify Berry, and to argue him into quiet, but this seemed only to incense him. Finally Berry left the saloon a moment and went out into the street. Here he pro-cured a piece of gas pipe. With this he re-turned and assaulted Blouwitz, striking him on the head, and felling him to the ground inconscious. At this Berry again went out-unconscious. At this Berry again went outside.

When Blouwitz regained consciousness he asked where Berry had gone. Hearing that he had left the saloon he also started out intent on finding him. He found the man he wanted, but a few steps from the saloon. He said nothing, but drew a knife and went at him, cutting right and left.

Three of the knife wounds penetrated Berry's abdomen and six others were distributed in different portions of the man's body, literally cutting him to pieces.

An ambulance was called and Berry was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Examination showed that the three wounds in the abdomen had severed his intestines and that he could live but a short time. It was said that death would come before morning.

Biouwitz was arrested and taken to the Belleville Police Station. His injujries were treated there and it was found that they were serious.

Refused to Be Bound, and With Folded Arms Faced Firing Party-General De Wet's Successful Ruse.

London, Aug. 25 .- Lord Roberts has left Pretoria and has fixed his headquarters at Wonderfontein, the second station west of Machadadorp, where the bulk of the Boers in arms are supposed to be. Wiring from there, August 24, he says:

"Buller reports the Boers laid a trap for his cavalry August 23, opening with several guns at fairly short range. The English guns silenced the Boers, but when the firing ceased and the pickets were being placed for the night, by some mistake two companies of the Liverpool Regiment advanced 1,500 yards into a hollow out of sight of the main body, where they were surrounded by the Boers and suffered severely.

The Liverpools lost ten men killed and Captain Plomer and forty-five men wounded. In addition, they had thirty-two men missing.

General Buller's other casualties August 23 were twenty men killed, wounded or missing.

Lord Roberts also wires that General Pole-Carew occupied Belfast, near Machadadorp, August 24, without opposition. General French, with four brigades of avalry, is moving east of Machadadorp. The dispatch of the British Commander in-Chief in South Africa also says:

"There is a welcome green over the veldt which, I hope, means that our riding and transport animals will get grazing shortly. They have fared badly of late." A special dispatch from Pretoria, dated August 24 gives details of the execution on Friday of Lieutenant Cordua of the Transvaal artillery, convicted by a court-martial of breaking his parole in plotting to abduct Lord Roberts and kill British officers. ordua walked fearlessly to the garden behind the jail. ## AFTER AMERICAN COAL.

Russia Will Place Order for Three Million Tons in United States. PECIAL BY CABLE.

SPECIAL BY CABLE.
London, Aug. 25.—(Copyright, 1900, by the New York Herald Company.)—For several days agents of the Russian Government have been scurrying around London in search of coal for the Czar's navy, but the Russians have found this is not the time to come to England to buy coal.
What little is left in the market commands exhorbitant prices.
Russia wants 3,000,000 tons of coal at once. Her agents expected to place the order in London without much difficulty, but they were amazed to find that no English firm could guarantee to obtain 3,000,000 tons in this market.

lish firm could guarantee to obtain 3,000,000 tons in this market.
Russia, therefore, has turned to America, as France has already done. Her agents are about to place an order for 3,000,000 tons with an American coal company.
This will be the largest export order of coal ever received by the United States.
Despite the high rate of ocean freight which, before the present crisis in England, prohibited a large export from America. American coal can be delivered in Russia for less than British coal could now be.

Mrs. Cortinez is a very good stenographer, in addition to her qualifications as a milliner, and has letters of recommendation from the Mayor of Mineral Springs, Tex., as to her efficiency in this profession.

She arrived here Monday in company with Mrs. Hunt, a milliner of Alvord, Tex., and took rooms at Mrs. McDermott's boarding-house, No. 1535 Locust street. Monday afternoon, after writing several letters, she dressed for the street and went out, saying that she was going to the drug store to pro-cure stamps, and would then mail the letters. She has not been seen since.

Yesterday Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Moore of Galveston, Tex., who knew Mrs. Cortenez very well, visited the hospituls, believing that their friend might have been suddenly taken ill and removed to one of these institutions. They failed to find any trace of her, and then they visited the Morgue without result.

Then she went into the back parlor and told Miss Looker, a milliner from Mineral Springs, Tex., that there was a reporter outside who wished to see her. While Miss Looker was on her way to the door Mrs. McDermott stopped in the hall and engaged in an animated conversation with the young man with the indiscreet tongue.

Just then Miss Looker monopolized the reporter's attention, It was evident that she had been forewarned by Mrs. McDermott's announcement that it was a reporter who wished to speak to her.

"I really don't know anything about Mrs. Cortinez's private affairs," she protested. "I am at a loss to account for her mysterious disappearance. Yes, I did hear that she had some sort of a love affair down in Texas, but I do not know any of the particulars, or the man's name, or anything else. I just heard it."

Then Mrs. McDermott came to the rescue again and was shortly re-enforced by her daughter, and between the three of them they succeeded in keeping in the background the young man with the indiscreet tongue, who evinced a disposition to convince the reporter that he knew what he was talking about. Mrs. McDermott ended the interview by referring the reporter to Mrs. Moore, who had known Mrs. Cortinez in Galveston, and who could be found, she said, somewhere in the West End.

A letter addressed to Mrs. Cortinez was received at Mrs. McDermott's house Friday from Greenfield, Mo., evidently in answer to a letter she had mailed Monday before she disappeared. On the envelope appeared the instruction: "Return to Levin W. Shafer, Greenfield, Mo."

GIRL FELL INTO VITRIOL.

Rescued From Barrel by Young Man-Seriously Injured.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Olean, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Miss Mae Taylor of this city is lying in the Olean Hospital, suffering from the effects of an accident which probably has no parallel. While witwhich probably has no parallel. While with probably has no parallel. While with passing a moving picture show she fell into a barrel in which were the chemicals necessary for generating the electric power used by the picture people.

The grant crowd was paralyzed by terror, and only the bravery of Thomas Mc-Auliffe, a young man who already wears a medal as a life saver, prevented a fatal termination of the accident.

A moving picture representation of the Passion Play was being given. A board stretched across some barrels afforded a point of vantage which the friends of Miss Taylor took advantage of. She was the first to be assisted to a place on the board, and it so happened that she took her position directly over a barrel that was filled with a combination of water and vitriol, from which the wires supplying the current were run. The board gave way and she dropped which the wires supplying the current were run. The board gave way and she dropped in, feet first, and stood immersed to her waist, and was slowly boiling to death. Young McAuliffe was the only one of the assemblage who retained his presence of mind. He dashed toward the barrel and pulled Miss Taylor from her frightful bath. Money. REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Philadelphia, Aug. 25.—National Chairman Marcus Hanna met the Philadelphia Finance Committee to-day in the office of Chairman W. W. Gibbs of the Drexel building and told them he expects $200,009 out of Philadelphia for campaign purposes.

Among the men who met Senator Hanna in Mr. Gibbs's office were prominent business men like Thomas Dolan, Jacob J. Seeds, Caleb Fox, Joseph F. Sinnott, Henry Burk, Evans R. Dick and State Senator W. A. Porter. After a few remarks of greeting, Senator Hanna plunged into the midst of his frankest expositions of the condition of the party and of its funds which has ever been put before a gathering of men who were not members of the National Committee.

He told of his visit to New York and of REPUBLIC SPECIAL

At the conclusion of the conference Chairman Hanna said:
